NEWS RELEASE

New Cattle Producers Elected to Board & Executive

Elections were held at the BC Cattlemen's Association (BCCA) 80th Annual General Meeting last week in 100 Mile House, BC. The BCCA is comprised of 56 local cattle associations, which combine to form 15 regional associations. It is from within these regional groups that directors to the BCCA are elected.

The Association welcomes the following eight cattle producers who are newly elected to the Board by their regional:

Director	Hometown	Representing
Munro Muir	Vanderhoof	Nechako Valley Regional Cattlemen's Association
John Kochel	Vanderhoof	Nechako Valley Regional Cattlemen's Association
Linda Allison	Princeton	Southern Interior Stockmen's Association
Ian Hutcheon	Rock Creek	Southern Interior Stockmen's Association
Duncan Barnett	150 Mile House	Cariboo Cattlemen's Association
Wayne Tofsrud	Telkwa	Skeena Regional Cattlemen's Association
Warren Himech	Houston	Skeena Regional Cattlemen's Association
Earl Cusack	Fort St. John	Peace River Regional Cattlemen's Association

The Association wishes to thank our outgoing Board members for their volunteerism to the cattle industry: Doug Brook (Telkwa), Ernie Willis (Princeton), Mark Nairn (Riske Creek), Derek Feldman (Burns Lake), Margaret Hall (Vanderhoof), and Gary Champagne (Beaverdell).

The Board of Directors from their group, elect an Executive Committee of seven which includes the president, past president and vice president. The following Executive members were elected by the Board of Directors: Roland Baumann (Vanderhoof) – President, Judy Guichon (Quilchena) - Vice President, Ed Salle (Barriere) - Past President, Bill Bentley (Progress), Ron Buchanan (Charlie Lake), Rod Savage (Cranbrook), and Linda Allison (Princeton).

For more than 80 years, the Association has represented the interests of beef cattle producers in British Columbia and continues to work on issues affecting the industry on behalf of our 1,250 cattle producer members.
