2020 BC Cattlemen's Association Annual General Meeting Cancellation

Frequently Asked Questions

How can our Association submit our resolutions?

With the resolution deadline approaching, BCCA would like to remind local and regional associations that resolutions can be accepted year round under our Resolution Policy. The Board of Directors will review submitted resolutions and refer them to the appropriate standing committee. Those resolutions that are controversial or alter a BCCA policy will be held for ratification at the BCCA Annual General Meeting in 2021. Resolutions can be submitted via Email: bccattle@cattlemen.bc.ca (Subject: AGM Resolution) or Fax: 1-250-573-5155

How will you be reporting to the membership on BCCA activities?

BCCA is committed to reporting the work of the association to the membership and we are exploring options to report on the financial activities of the Association as required under the Societies Act. We are planning to still distribute the AGM book with committee reports and will make a digital version available on our website. Additionally, the July issue of Beef in BC will showcase the work of our Committees and actions taken from previous resolutions.

I have already registered for the Annual General Meeting, will you be issuing refunds?

Yes. Some registration and payments have already been processed. For those registrations, the AGM Organizing Committee will be working on refunds as soon as possible. Registrations that have recently come into the BCCA office will be returned with the original payment (cheque or credit) not processed.

Will you be refunding businesses and associations that booked a trade show booth or provided sponsorship?

Yes. BCCA and the AGM Organizing Committee want to thank all businesses and organizations for their support of the event and we will be offering a full refund. As quickly as possible, the Organizing committee will be in touch with each trade show registrant and sponsor to provide a refund.
